Contest Information

Your application package consists of four elements:

- This form completely filled out.
- A one-page typed essay, double-spaced and in 12-point font, that describes the focus of the collection and why, how and when the collection was assembled. The essay may discuss the bibliographic elements of the books that make the items unique.
- An annotated bibliography of the collection. Individual titles should be numbered and short annotations must discuss the importance of the items to the overall collection. Bibliographies may follow any format.
- An additional annotated bibliographic "wish list" of up to 10 additional titles that the contestant would like to add to their collection in the future. Each annotation should briefly discuss in what manner the item would add value to the collection.

Submit your application package:

- Submit your application package online, as a single file, by Monday, April 17, 2017, by 5:00 p.m. by way of Digital Commons. (Requires creation of a free Digital Commons account.)
- By submitting my application package, I agree that, if selected as a winner, excerpts from my library research essay or other parts of my application may be used in a Library exhibit and may appear on the Library's web site.
