1936

1936, Evabel to Jack

Evabel Bell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection

Recommended Citation

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the CAWL Archives: Second World War at Chapman University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Jack P. Bell Second World War Correspondence Collection by an authorized administrator of Chapman University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact laughtin@chapman.edu.
Dear Isabel,

I suppose you will think this is rather different writing you are used to when I see you all the time, but I had to put my feelings out somehow or I'll go crazy. Sometimes I feel so happy and gay and other times when I think about it, I get so sad. I would just like to sit down and cry. Oh, I know you say Jack Bell isn't worth it, but you don't see people by their value or by what other people think of them. At least I don't. I suppose you think him smart and silly but, listen Isabel, I'm going to tell you something I've never told anyone else, not even Jack, I've never liked anyone half as well as I do Jack, some time I wonder if I don't love him. I can't eat, sleep, or study or do anything without seeing him or thinking about him. I've never felt like this about any boy before and you know I didn't. I'd go with them and forget—maybe except Neil, but he never affected me like this.

You have no idea how my feelings were hurt when I heard Jack talking the way he did and then he got mad. He should have been the one to apologize. If he got tired of me why did he even have to come around and the way that guy acted you would think he was crazy about me. Why do they do that Isabel? I should just like to see him once, and have an out and out talk with him. Do they come back? Don’t you think Jack will? Oh Isabel I hope he does — I know you think I’m dumb and haven’t got a backbone but hasn’t anyone affected you that way? I’m just stating now that I can hardly write. I didn’t know how I’m going to finish the rest of the day. Oh God — I hope he comes back. I wish I had more backbone or something. Somebody ought to club me over the head or something, maybe I’d wake up. Please don’t show this to anyone, except maybe Bill, because after all he’s almost part of you —

Evelin.
Dear Isabel,

I suppose you will think this is rather dumb writing you a note when I see you all the time, but I had to put my feelings out somehow or I'll go crazy. Sometimes I feel so happy and gay and then when I think about it, I get so blue I would just like to sit down and cry. Oh I know you say Jack Bell isn't worth it, but you don't rate people by their value or by what other people think of them, at least I don't. I suppose you think I'm dumb and silly but, listen, Isabel, I'm going to tell you something I've never told anyone else, not even Jack, I've never liked anyone half so well as I do Jack, sometime I wonder if I don't love him. I can't eat, sleep or study or do anything without seeing him or thinking about him. I've never felt like this about any boy before and you know I haven't. I'd go with them and forget — maybe except Red, but he never affected me like this. You have no idea how my feelings were hurt when I heard Jack talking the way he did and then he got mad. He should have been the one to apologize. If he got tired of me why did he even have to come down, and the way that guy acted you would think he was crazy about me. Why do they do that Isabel? I would just like to see him once.
and have an out to out talk with him. Do they come back? Do you think Jack will?
Oh Isabel I hope he does – I know you think I’m dumb and haven’t got a backbone, but hasn’t anyone affected you that way?
I’m just shaking now that I can hardly write.
I don’t know how I’m going to finish the rest of the day. Oh God — I hope he comes back. I wish I had more backbone or something. Somebody ought to clunk me over the head or something, maybe I’d wake up. Please don’t show this to anyone, except maybe Bing, because after all he is almost part of you ——

Evabel.

[[At a right angle (inside creases)]]
Isabel ——
Very personal