

3-25-2008

Panel to Examine Radio's Past and Future on April 3

Chapman University Media Relations

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/press_releases

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Higher Education Administration Commons

Recommended Citation

Chapman University Media Relations, "Panel to Examine Radio's Past and Future on April 3" (2008).

Chapman Press Releases 2003-2011. 199.

https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/press_releases/199

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Chapman Press at Chapman University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Chapman Press Releases 2003-2011 by an authorized administrator of Chapman University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact laughtin@chapman.edu.

Panel to Examine Radio's Past and Future on April 3

Tom Schnabel (KCRW's Caf L.A.), Trevis Bird (K-EARTH), Alex Warren (KROQ, Chapman alumnus) and Allyson Betley (Chapman Radio) are among the panelists who will discuss Radio: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

ORANGE, Calif., March 24, 2008 -- Chapman University's Department of Communication Studies will present a panel entitled "Radio: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow, " on Thursday, April 3 at 4 p.m. in Argyros Forum Rm. 209A & B on the university's Orange campus. Hosted by Allen Levy, assistant professor of communication studies and faculty advisor to Chapman Radio, the panel will explore radio's history and impact, and seek to illuminate radio's role in the looming digital/download age.

Admission is free and open to the public and members of the Chapman community.

Slated to participate are: Tom Schnabel, host of KCRW's hip Caf L.A. and program advisor on world music at the Hollywood Bowl and Walt Disney Concert Hall; Trevis Bird, visibility coordinator at K-EARTH Radio; Alex Warren, a Chapman alumnus who now works in production and on-air for KROQ's popular Kevin & The Bean show; Professor Matthew Schneider, professor of English and associate dean of Wilkinson College's School of Humanities at Chapman University; and Allyson Betley, student general manager of Chapman Radio, Chapman University's internet radio station.

Participants in the panel will discuss their own experiences in the world of radio and try to predict just what the future of radio might look like in an age of personalization and an increasing number of media choices.