Darling Fink,

Mail call treated me swell to-nite honey. I got four letters from you.
I love to get your letters sweetie. You write such swell ones.

I'm still just waiting for the word to leave here. I don't think redeployment will slow up as much as they said it would. They're really starting to put the pressure on to get guys home. The sooner the better.

That parking meter business sounds like a pretty good thing, don't you think so honey? It might make it a little easier to get a place to park now. Don't you feel ashamed of yourself beating our fair city out of four cents, honey?

I went to the show tonite, and saw "The affairs of Susan," again. I'd seen it the week I was in Kassel, but it was worth seeing again. Swell comedy.

Glad to hear that Isabel is home. Say hello to her for me. She's really a busy kid these days with two lively children, isn't she?

Afonie really been getting some rough winter weather, honey. It makes the driving tough. We don't have any snow right now, but it's been so cold the past few days that there's a half inch of frost all over the ground, and the trees. It's kind of pretty. Sort of reminds me of our ice storms at home.

Baby dear I love you so very much, and I'm just existing till we're together again. Afonie such a sweet sweetheart, and every day I miss you more. What paradise it will be to hold you so close to me, and tell you, and show how very much you mean to me. I always try in my letters, but darling words elegant enough have never been invented. You are such a precious darling, and I want to spend the rest of my life making love to you. I love every little thing about you sweetie. Your sweet smile, and your soft smooth complexion. I love the way your beautiful eyes sparkle.

And how sometimes you get real serious, and say, "Honey can I ask you a real personal question?" Then you start that little song, "Do your balls hang low." Oh darling I love you, I love you, I love you.

I'm going to bed now and dream of my darling wife whom I love so very much. All my love and millions of hugs and kisses.

Your lover,
Jack
