The Los Angeles-based Alcantara Trio is becoming widely recognized as one of today's most exciting and engaging young ensembles. Established in 2005, the trio has performed on concert series throughout Southern California, including the South Bay Chamber Music Society, Dana Point Coastal Arts, Concertos Pomeridiano, The Previews at Trinity Lutheran Church, UCLA Faculty Chamber Concert Series, and Chapman University Faculty Concert Series. The Alcantara Trio has twice attended the Banff Summer Chamber Music Residency where they have participated in numerous performances and masterclasses. They most recently attended in 2011, and were featured on a Live Webcast concert that is now available for download as a podcast from the Banff Centre on iTunes.

Formed during their graduate studies at UCLA (the trio takes its name from UCLA's beloved 'Duke of Alcantara' Stradivarius violin), the ensemble soon became finalists in the Coleman Chamber Ensemble Competition and semi-finalists at the Fischhoff National Chamber Music Competition. They have participated in masterclasses with Menahem Pressler and the Tokyo String Quartet, and have worked closely with members of the Brentano, Juilliard, Schoenberg, and St. Lawrence string quartets, the Gryphon and Weilerstein trios, and other prominent musicians including Gloria Cheng, Paul Coletti, and Walter Ponce.

Violinist Eric Wuest, cellist Alisha Bauer, and pianist Ruby Cheng also each have distinguished careers as soloists, orchestral players, and educators. They have performed throughout North America, Europe, and Asia, appearing with major symphony orchestras such as the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Young Musicians Foundation Orchestra, and the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, and have been broadcast on National Public Radio and Santa Barbara's KDB 93.7 classical radio. They regularly play in orchestras throughout Southern California, including the New West Symphony, Hollywood Studio Symphony, Malibu Coast Chamber Orchestra, and Santa Maria Philharmonic. The members of the trio hold degrees from Juilliard, UCLA, University of Michigan, and University of Denver, and now serve on the faculties of Chapman University and Los Angeles City College.

CELEBRATE the creative and intellectual promise of today's rising stars by supporting the Chapman University College of Performing Arts. Your tax-deductible donation to our Fund for Excellence underwrites award-winning programs and performances. Also, your employer may be interested in the visibility gained by underwriting programs and performances within the College of Performing Arts.

We invite you to learn more about how you can assist with the construction of our new Center for the Arts, a 1,050-seat theatre which will be located in the northwest corner of campus. When completed, the Center for the Arts will be one of the largest at any university in Orange County and will feature state-of-the-art technology.

For more information about supporting our future stars in theatre, music and dance and the exciting programs produced by the College of Performing Arts, contact the College of Performing Arts office at 714-997-6519 or copa@chapman.edu. Thank you for your interest and continued support!
