Incantations

Text by Michael McGlynn

Alleluia.
You are the stag, you are the bird, you are the fish, alleluia.
You are the wind, you are the cold, you are the sea, alleluia.
You are the sun, you are the star, you are the sky, alleluia.
You are the grass, you are the flower, you are the trees, alleluia.
Alleluia my Jesus, alleluia my heart, alleluia my Lord, alleluia my Christ.

Although sixteenth century English composer Thomas Morley may be best known as a secular madrigalist, his sacred music output is not insignificant. Indeed, he held several important church posts (including the Chapel Royal and St. Paul's Cathedral), and his compositional catalog includes a number of anthems, Services, Psalm settings, and motets. His well-known four-voice motet Agnus Dei (technically not a Mass fragment) embraces the polyphonic compositional style of some of the works of his mentor William Byrd—the foremost English Renaissance composer.

Agnus Dei
Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us.

Apart from his massive War Requiem and venerated Christmas choral suite Ceremony of Carols, Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb for choir, soloists, and organ may well be his best known choral work. Subtitled “Festival Cantata,” the work is set to the poetry of Shakespeare contemporary Christopher Smart (1722-1771). Specifically, Britten's chosen text for the cantata represents only a fragment of Smart's voluminous yet unfinished poem Jubilate Agno that was written while the author was confined to an insane asylum.

In the work's opening section, the choir calls for a universal appearance of “man and beast” to glorify God. In response, the next section of work conjures up a variety of Old Testament figures, each of whom are paired with various animals in order to more fully to praise God, the “artist inimitable.” Three brief vocal solos follow. The soprano soloist sings of her worshipful cat Jeoffry, assisted by the organ's feline accompaniment figures that seem to paint sound pictures of gentle purring, hypnotic tail-waving, and an occasional meow. Next, a pugilistic (yet “hospitable”) mouse takes the stage, ready to defend his spouse from “Cat.” (Perhaps Britten’s sense of humor led him to precede the “mouse aria” with musings about Jeoffry the cat, now maybe not so much worshipful as hungry.) The most lyrical of the three ariosos belongs to the tenor soloist who sings of the blessings that are flowers. Christopher Smart reveals that flowers have their own angels and their own language that represents “the poetry of Christ.”
The choir then returns in a most dramatic fashion as the poet proclaims that he is being persecuted in the same manner as was his Savior. Yet, he expects to be delivered by the one who “was born of a virgin.” The bass soloist (here, soloists) recites four letters, each of which is imbued with the nature of God: H for the Holy Spirit; K for King; L is Love; and M is “Musick.” What follows is a sung list of musical instruments, each linked with random rhyming sounds presented in an almost delirious fashion. Smart says that God’s own instrument is the harp, and when the “inimitable artist” plays it, “the devils themselves are at peace.”

Rejoice in the Lamb

Solo: JUBILATE AGNO

Chorus:
Rejoice in God, O ye Tongue, give the glory to the Lord, and the Lamb.
Let man and beast appear before him, and magnify his name together.
Let Nimrod, the mighty hunter, bind a leopard to the altar and consecrate his spear to the Lord.
Let Ishmael dedicate a tyger, and give praise for the liberty in which the Lord has let him at large.
Let Balzam appear with an ass, and bless the Lord his people and his creatures for a reward eternal.
Let Daniel come forth with a lion, and praise God with all his might through faith in Christ Jesus.
Let Ithamar minister with a chamois, and bless the name of Him that cloatheth the naked.
Let Jachim with the satyr bless God in the dance.
Let David bless with the Bear—the beginning

Text from Jubilate Agno by Christopher Smart

Solo: Hallelujah from the heart of God, and from the hand of the artist inimitable, and from the echo of the heavenly harp in sweetness magnificat and mighty.

Chorus:
Rejoice in God, O ye Tongue, give the glory to the Lord, and the Lamb.
Let man and beast appear before him, and magnify his name together.
Let Nimrod, the mighty hunter, bind a leopard to the altar and consecrate his spear to the Lord.
Let Ishmael dedicate a tyger, and give praise for the liberty in which the Lord has let him at large.
Let Balzam appear with an ass, and bless the Lord his people and his creatures for a reward eternal.
Let Daniel come forth with a lion, and praise God with all his might through faith in Christ Jesus.
Let Ithamar minister with a chamois, and bless the name of Him that cloatheth the naked.
Let Jachim with the satyr bless God in the dance.
Let David bless with the Bear—the beginning

Solo: Hallelujah from the heart of God, and from the hand of the artist inimitable, and from the echo of the heavenly harp in sweetness magnificat and mighty.
Welsh composer Paul Mealor was catapulted to international fame in 2011 when the largest audience in broadcasting history (2.5 billion people) heard his motet Ubi caritas performed as part of the Royal Wedding Ceremony of His Royal Highness Prince William and Catherine Middleton at Westminster Abbey. The motet’s texture ranges from the stark two-part women’s solo passages to the lush nine-part harmonies of the full choir. Other compositional features of the piece are tone clusters and the sweet, fauxbourdon-like parallel motion of voice lines in rich harmonies.

Ubi caritus
Anonymous Text (c. 10th Century)

Where charity and love are, God is there. Christ's love has gathered us into one. Let us rejoice and be pleased in Him. Let us fear, and let us love the living God. And may we love each other with a sincere heart.

John Rutter and David Willcocks arguably represent the two most prolific modern day English composers/arrangers of anthems, Christmas carols and folk songs. The farmer’s simply crafted lullaby “Golden Slumbers” and breezy “The Girl I Left Behind Me” are part of his 1978 collection _Five Traditional Folk Songs_. As the two musicians are mutual admirers, perhaps it is not coincidental that Willcocks’ jaunty “Bobby Shaftoe” is now available only in a folk song anthology edited by John Rutter.

About the Artists

Dear Parents and Friends:

One of the most critical skill sets our students will acquire during their time at Chapman is artistic career development to help prepare them for success after graduation. To accomplish this requires a quality and rigor of instruction that is second to none – implemented by faculty members who are not only superb teachers, but successful working artists themselves. And it involves patrons of the arts, like you, who embrace the value the arts bring to our society and the impact the arts have on our communities.

With the construction of the new Musco Center for the Arts, never has a community of music, theatre and dance enthusiasts been more essential to the quality of education and opportunities for our emerging artists here in the College of Performing Arts. Your role as a friend, family member and Fund for Excellence supporter means more to our gifted students than ever before.

We invite you to join our community of loyal alumni, parents and community partners who are devoted to developing the talents of the next generation of artists with a gift to the Fund for Excellence. The Fund for Excellence supports the College of Performing Arts initiatives, ensuring our ability to continue providing educational and performing opportunities necessary for our students to grow into successful artists. Your gift impacts our program by:

- Providing life-changing master classes with world-renowned professionals on campus;
- Ensuring top-notch community productions of classic and contemporary art;
- Strengthening our ability to attract the brightest and most talented students, globally, through increased scholarships, program enrichment, and performance travel funds.

Performances like the Opera Chapman production you are about to see this evening are a prime example of the type of programming our Fund for Excellence brings to our students and community. We are proud to have presented over 110 productions last year with over 12,000 people in attendance, and I know you have enjoyed and valued the performing arts opportunities we provide. I hope you will take the next step by making a gift to our Fund for Excellence. Please know that each one of our students benefits from your decision to support the College; because of their rigorous training at Chapman, our graduates are performing in major opera houses across the country. With your gift, you will be a part of a family of individuals who demonstrate, year after year, their commitment to the talents of young artists. I hope you join us not only because you value the arts, but because you believe in and want to invest in our next generation of artists.

Enjoy the performance, and I look forward to seeing you again at one of our many performance events throughout the coming year.

Dale A. Merrill
Dean
