There are numerous people I would like to thank for these past four years. First to Mr. Manaster – thank you for kindness and for inspiring me to be meticulous in what I do; Mr. Becker – whose sure humanity inspires me to truly love what I do; Professor Laycock – thank you for the opportunities that have made my senior year most enjoyable and your humor along the way; and Professor Koshak – who not only encourages the highest level of musicianship, but also exemplifies the most committed of educators. Many thanks to all my friends – to single you out and write notes would take pages – and I think we all agree my program is long enough! Thank you to my grandmother and all my uncles, aunties and cousins. And finally, thank you to my parents, Chris and Irene, and my brother, Keith, whose support is reflected in so many ways.
