In 2018, following a lengthy and rigorous application process, Chapman University was granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa – a significant achievement in the history of the university – with its inaugural cohort of students to be inducted in 2019. The Phi Beta Kappa Society, founded on Dec. 5, 1776 at the College of William and Mary, is the nation's oldest and most prestigious academic honor society. Phi Beta Kappa honors the best and brightest liberal arts and sciences undergraduates from top schools across the nation through a highly selective, merit-based invitation process.

It is a rare honor. Just 10 percent of U.S. colleges and universities have Phi Beta Kappa chapters. These chapters select only 10 percent of their arts and sciences graduates to join. Phi Beta Kappa has nearly 50 alumni associations and more than half a million members worldwide. The Society also sponsors a number of academic fellowships and awards.

Noteworthy members include 17 U.S. Presidents, 40 U.S. Supreme Court Justices and more than 140 Nobel Laureates. The mission of the Phi Beta Kappa Society is to champion education in the liberal arts and sciences, foster freedom of thought, and recognize academic excellence. Those inducted into Phi Beta Kappa become members for life, and are connected immediately to a diverse network of high achievers active in science and health care, the arts and humanities, business and technology, and law, government and philanthropy.

Phi Beta Kappa (ΦΒΚ) stands for Φιλοσοφία Βίου Κυβερνήτης (Philosophia Biou Kybernētēs), which means “Love of wisdom is the guide of life.”

ABOUT THE GUEST SPEAKER

Jack Horner

Lecturer and Presidential Fellow
Chapman University

John R. “Jack” Horner was born and raised in Shelby, Montana. He attended the University of Montana for seven years, majoring in geology and zoology, but never completed a formal degree due to his dyslexia. However, the unconventional way of thinking that he developed due to his learning difference also helped him to become one of the most prominent paleontologists in the world, a truly legendary figure in the field. He succeeded, he believes, because of, and not despite, his nonlinear way of thinking.

The University of Montana awarded him an honorary doctorate in science in 1986. In that same year, he was awarded a MacArthur Fellowship, popularly known as the “genius grant.” Until June 2016, when he retired from Montana State University in Bozeman, Horner was Regents Professor of Paleontology in the Department of Earth Sciences, and curator of paleontology at the Museum of the Rockies.

Horner studies dinosaur growth, behavior and evolution, and is most famous for discovering Maiasaura and for providing the first clear evidence that dinosaurs cared for their young. He has published more than 100 professional papers, nine popular books, and more than 100 popular articles. He was author Michael Crichton’s inspiration for “Alan Grant” in the Jurassic Park books (the character played by Sam Neill in the movies), and served as technical advisor for all the movies in the Jurassic franchise.

Horner was appointed a Presidential Fellow at Chapman University in 2016, in which capacity he helps students to learn from each other, and to embrace their cognitive differences, in order to become more creative thinkers. He travels the United States and the world lecturing on dinosaurs, evolution, dyslexia and unconventional thinking.

Marjorie Perloff, Ph.D.

Phi Beta Kappa Presidential Fellow, Psi of California Chapter

Marjorie Perloff is the Sadie D. Patek Professor of Humanities Emerita at Stanford University and the Florence Scott Professor Emerita of English at the University of Southern California, and has served as a lecturer and Presidential Fellow at Chapman University. She is the author of many books on 20th and 21st century poetry and poetics, including Frank O'Hara: Poet Among Painters (1977), The Poetics of Indeterminacy: Rimbaud to Cage (1981), The Futurist Moment: Avant-Garde, Avant-Guerre, and the Language of Rupture (1986, new edition, 1994), 21st Century Modernism (2002), Unoriginal Genius: Writing by Other Means in the New Century (2011) and Poetics in a New Key (2014), a collection of interviews and essays.

Her most recent book (April 2016) is Edge of Irony: Modernism in the Shadow of the Habsburg Empire, which enlarges on the theme of her 2004 memoir The Vienna Paradox. The 2006 President of the MLA and a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the Philosophical Society of America, Perloff has held many visiting chairs and fellowships. She is a frequent reviewer for periodicals, from TLS and The Washington Post to all the major scholarly journals, and has lectured at most major universities in the U.S. and at European, Asian, and Latin American universities and literary festivals.

The Phi Beta Kappa Key

The symbol of the Phi Beta Kappa Society is a golden key engraved on the obverse with the image of a pointing finger, three stars, and the Greek letters from which the society takes its name. The stars are said today to show the ambition of students, as well as the three distinguishing principles of the Society: friendship, morality and learning. On the reverse are found the initials “SP” in script, which stand for the Latin words Societas Philosophiae, or “Philosophical Society.” Each member’s name, institution of higher learning, and year of induction are also engraved upon the key pin, which is presented at induction. The Phi Beta Kappa key, which can be worn for a lifetime, is an internationally recognized, visible symbol of academic and personal achievement.
