March 10th, 1955.

Dear Mr. Temianka:

Yours kind and enthusiastic letters gave me a deep joy and profound emotion. I am awfully glad to know that my quartet was so well received by audience and critics in its New York first performance, and that it belongs from now on to the regular repertoire of one of the most wonderful quartets I have ever heard: the Paganini Quartet.

The Herald Tribune review gave me also great pleasure because I know the importance of this newspaper in New York's musical life.

The First Quartet is in the process of edition. It is being published by Barry & Cia. and their agents in the United States are Boosey & Hawkes.

I shall be very glad to arrange the exclusive right to perform my work with the Paganini Quartet for all the next 1955-1956 season. I have discussed this with Messrs. Barry & Cia. and they are at once writing to Boosey & Hawkes asking them to make the necessary arrangements.

I must again express my deepest gratitude to you all for your admirable dedication to my work and for the magnificent performance you have rendered of it.

Cordially yours

Alberto Ginastera
