Dear Father:-

Received a letter from you addressed to Camp Logan yesterday, and one forwarded from the barracks today & was glad to hear from you & that you received the suit of clothes &c.

I am writing this letter while sitting on my cot & with a bun-pen in my hand at that so I hope you won't criticize it. The time is so full that I could not find a table to write at.

We are training about five hours a day with plenty rest & plenty to eat. The officers in this company could not be improved upon as far as good fellows go so you see it isn't half bad.
Regarding my feet, you might see what you can get for them through Winkler using your own judgment as to price. You might also do the same with the motorcycle through some agency in the city. I have not in advance for what you might do in the matter.

Remain your son

"Her"

P.S. I hope you & mother are well, also Irene & the kids.
