UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS

May 19 1968

Dear Carole

Greetings and salutations from a slightly surprised marine. I got your letter just as I was headed out the door to catch a chopper and take some supplies up to The Bank for the guys up there. I was wondering who was writing from California because all the people I knew in California are over here now. Well to make it short I finally got to read it on the chopper and now that I'm back in the area I figured I write back.

Do my ol buddy Paul is using my name in ~~vain~~ ^{vain} again huh. I'm going to have to talk to that kid, as to enlightening you as to what he is like well that's quite a chore. I haven't seen him for sometime since he went charging into the Navy and I went blundering through a year of Junior College and then careened off into the Marine Corps. I can give you a physical description although it'll be almost 2 years old, he was when I last saw him about 6'2" tall, 210 lbs of mighty moose muscle, black hair, blue eyes, and big feet (sig 14-EE).

also he was brave, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obnoxious, stubborn, and disgustingly clean cut. With attributes like that he should have been in trouble all the time but somehow he always comes out somewhere near the top of the heap.

Ha, I just looked at your letter again and you say you had trouble writing because you didn't know what kind of person was reading it. You can imagine the trouble I'm having since I'm not quite sure what kind of person is writing this.

I really don't know what to say, I'm a rather atrocious letter writer but around here mail is at a premium and so everytime I get a letter I do my best to answer it.

You'll have to excuse my writing but between my rotten handwriting and this ~~thrice~~ thrice-damned pen I seem to be doing a good job of measuring a couple of pieces of paper. I think I'll better quit while I'm ahead. Maybe after I come back from the Philippines (I'm going there for about 4 weeks of scuba school although what the Corps wants with a scuba.

trained radio operator I'm not quite sure. But after a few weeks back in civilization I'll be able to write english again) I guess I'll cut on run now it's Ho Cri Mien's birthday today and they expect some fireworks around here so I guess I'll wander over by the trench just to play it safe. I will probably write Paul before I do so would you tell him that he is going to get it one of this days, pow right in the kisser. Also thanks for the letter, everyone of em count and surprise ones are worth double.
