

Voces Novae: Chapman University Historical Review, Vol 1, No 1 (2009)

HOME ABOUT LOGIN REGISTER SEARCH CURRENT ARCHIVES PHI ALPHA THETA

Home > Vol 1, No 1 (2009)

About the Authors

Brittany Columbus, author of "Bean na h-Éireann: Feminism and Nationalism in an Irish Journal, 1908-1911," graduated from Chapman University in May 2009, with majors in both History and French. Brittany was the Treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta from 2008-2009. Her article was one of three undergraduate award winners at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Southern California Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009. In addition, she presented this paper at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009 at Chapman University. Her paper was the winner of second place prize for the Second Annual Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Contest. Brittany also received Honors in History in May 2009. She was also the recipient of the Tanaya Hills Award, a research grant sponsored by the Alpha Mu Gamma Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, to conduct research on this article.

John Cowles, author of "Vivez sans temps morts, jouissez sans entraves: Language Identity in the May 1968 Student-Worker Action Committees," graduated from Chapman University in May 2009, with majors in History and French. John was the Secretary of the Alpha Mu Gamma Chapter from 2008-2009. He presented this paper at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009. John received Honors in History and the History Award for Academic Excellence at the Seventeenth Annual Ludie and David C. Henley Social Sciences Awards Ceremony in May 2009. He was also honored with the first place prize at the Second Annual Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Contest. In addition, John received a Faculty Sponsored Student Scholarly/Creative Research Grant through the Office of the Chancellor to conduct research in Paris.

Ashley Duree, author of "Greed at the New York Stock Exchange and the Levitation of the Pentagon: Early Protest Theatre by Abbie Hoffman and Jerry Rubin," is a Chapman Alumna, from the class of 2009, with a major in History. Ashley was the Vice President of the Alpha Mu Gamma Chapter from 2008-2009, and was the Secretary of the Chapter from 2007-2008. She presented this paper at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009 Ashley also received Honors in History in May 2009.

Paul Fellman, author of "The Battle of the Somme: How the 18th Division Avoided Disaster, 1 July 1916," graduated from Chapman University in May, majoring in History. His paper was one of three undergraduate award winners at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Southern California Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009. In addition, he presented this paper at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009, at Chapman University. Paul also received Honors in History in May 2009.

Hailey Giczy, author of "The Bum Blockade: Los Angeles and The Great Depression," graduated from Chapman University in May 2009, majoring in History and Political Theory. Hailey was the President of the Alpha Mu Gamma Chapter from 2008-2009, the Treasurer of the Chapter from 2007-2008, and was honored with the "Best PAT Member of the Year" award for the 2008-2009 academic year. This paper was presented at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009. Her paper won the third place prize for the Second Annual Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Contest. She was also recipient of a Faculty Sponsored Student Scholarly/Creative Research Grant through the Office of the Chancellor, which was used to conduct research in Los Angeles. Hailey also received Honors in History in May 2009.

Jessy Jones, author of "Soviet Stooge or Spanish Socialist? The Political Ideology of Juan Negrín," is a Chapman Alumna, from the class of 2009, with a major in History. She presented this paper at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009.

Kyle Kordon, author of "Khrushchev Comes to America: The Advent of Mutual Understanding," is a Chapman Alumnus, from the class of 2009, with a major in History. Kyle presented this paper at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009.

Elizabeth Mack, author of "The Malleus Maleficarum and King James: Defining Witchcraft," is a Chapman Alumna, from the class of 2008, with a major in History. Elizabeth is the current Alpha Mu Gamma Alumni Liaison. She presented this paper at the 2008 Phi Alpha Theta Southern California Regional Conference hosted by Chapman on April 12, 2008. Elizabeth also gave a version of her paper at the Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society 2008 Biennial Convention, January 3-5, at the Hyatt Regency Tamaya Resort and Spa, Santa Ana Pueblo, New Mexico. She also received Honors in History in May 2008, and was honored with the History Award for Academic Excellence.

Kyle Nellesen, author of "Fighting On Borrowed Wings: The Combat Experiences of Americans Serving with French and British Units During the First World War," graduated from Chapman University in May 2009. He presented this paper at the 2009 Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference hosted by UCLA on April 18, 2009, and also at the First Annual Alpha Mu Gamma History Honors Society Conference on March 21, 2009. Kyle was also awarded honorable mention for the Second Annual Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Contest. He received Honors in History in May 2009.