Darling,

I received your letter today and I'm answering you immediately. yes darling, I got your own little poem it was so sweet of you. I love to get them.

I'm so glad to hear you are still working. I hope you keeps right on until about September. maybe then things will be better here.

See, honey, thank loads for the dollar. Boy it sure came in handy.

It seems as though I have so much to say to you and can't say them in writing.

When are you coming in, dear, please make it soon. and let me know honey. because I want to plan my week-end accordingly. I'll stay with Ann that night. She stays at the Hotel Franklyn and maybe you can get a room there for the night so maybe we can get to spend the night together in different rooms. I'll meet you at the bus, honey, or maybe

Jim is coming² in. So you + Jim can get a room together and Esther and I can spend the night with her in her room.

Gee, honey, I'd love to come in to see your sister, honey, but it looks like that is almost impossible. But nevertheless tell her to give you a great big kiss for me! Of course it won't be like first hand but we have to take every thing as it comes.

I wonder what is the matter with Stella. She hasn't answered me yet and usually she answers me so promptly. If you see her ask her whats the matter. Have you seen Bing? Is he still seeing Isabel every day? Is he back from his trip, and did he stay the whole well
through?

Last night I went on the boat.
remember like we went. Only, lacking,
I didn't have half as good a time
as I did when I was with you.

I miss you so much, more than I do ordinarily. It seems as though I can't miss you much more and then when I go out with another fellow and when I come home I miss you so much. Not one of the fellows have been as nice as you was sweet or anything or oh darling not one of them even compare with you.

I got something for you, sweet, and when the letters wear off then my love for you will wear off.

I haven't been out job hunting again, but I'm going out to-morrow. Maybe I'll get something yet. I do hope I get something soon because I can't chisel here very long.

No, honey, I'll never go back to Elyria to live. Maybe I might go there for a visit or something like that but as far as living there I think that is out.

I bet Elyria seems so different then it was when I was there. I mean just like if I went to Oberlin and you weren't there. Oh darling don't ever leave me. I need you so much.

and love you so much.

So long, darling, until very soon
and make it very soon.

yours always

Evabel.
