Dear [Name],

I got your very sweet letter this morning. My, my aren't you just the sweetest boy. I ask you some sensible questions and what so I get for an answer - a lot of begrudging answers. Don't you think I'd kind of like to know the ol' home town news.

As for spending my last dime I do have to have money for carfare. I don't want you to send me money all the time. I just want some stamps. But, honey, what am I doing sitting here arguing with the light of my life. I hear me. Sometimes I do get terrible. But don't mind me. After all I'm just the girl friend.
my, my aren't you just the model boy. I'll bet your mother and all the neighbours mighty proud of their nice boy. you are much better than you were when I was away.

Oh darling I'm going to be so very very glad see you and be so very very sad when you go away. Won't it be wonderful when you come here to live and we will be together almost all the time. Except of course when you are hunting for a job and eating and sleeping.

We'll always have some kind of an anniversary of some kind and darling "Every day I'll fall in love all over again with you you should have married me out I've been kind of a dud, haven't I? But darling remember, down deep in my heart I'll always love you."

Doesn't it seem funny that both Bing and I should go away about at the same. Then pretty soon you'll be going away. And then maybe Isabel will go away. Roy & Betty are away and pretty soon Ida will come to Detroit. And then almost our whole gang will be gone. Isn't it funny how a group of people just broke all up.

I went to the show yesterday and saw two of the swellest pictures: 'A Star is born' and 'Mountain Justice.' And during the whole picture I was thinking about you.

Well, sweet I must hurry cause I have to get to school.

Yours,

Dearest,

I got your sweet letter this morning. My, my aren’t you just the sweetest boy. I ask you some sensible questions and what do I get for an answer – a lot a begrudging answers. Don’t you think I’d kind of like to know the old home town news.

As for spending my last dime I do have to have money for carfare. I don’t want you to send me money all the time. I just wanted some stamps. But, honey, what am I doing sitting here arguing with the light of my life. Oh dear me, sometimes I do get terrible. But don’t mind me. After all I’m just the girl friend.
My, my aren’t you just the model boy. I’ll bet your Mother and all the neighbors are mighty proud of their nice boy. You are much better than you were when I was away.

Oh darling I’m going to be so very very glad see you and be so very very sad when you go away. Won’t it be wonderful when you come here to live and we will be to-gether almost all the time. Except of course when you are hunting for a job and eating + sleeping.

We”’ always have some kind of an anniversery of some kind and darling “Every day I’ll fall in love all over again with you.”

You should have bawled me out. I’ve been kind of a dud, haven’t I? But darling remember, down deep in my heart I’ll always love you.

Doesn’t it seem funny that both Bing + I should go away about at the same. Then pretty soon you’ll be going away. And then maybe Isabel will go away. Roy + Betty are away and pretty soon Ida will come to Detroit. And then almost our whole gang will be gone. Isn’t it funny how a group of people just broke all up.

I went to the show yesterday and and saw two of the swellest pictures “A Star is born” and “Mountain Justice”. And during the whole picture I was thinking about you.

Well sweet I must hurry cause I have to get to school.

Yours,

Evabel.
