My dear Steve,

Thank you for your gracious reception and the delightful luncheon. We are delighted and deeply appreciative that you will serve as Master of Ceremonies and Jayne, your enchanting wife, as honorary Chairperson for our next Allegro Ball. The event will take place on Monday evening March 21 at the Grand Ballroom of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, and the guest of honor will be the august Johann Sebastian Bach.

En route to Hong Kong, I shall try my hand at the bare bones outline of the hour's entertainment. It will be written without pride of ownership and its sole purpose is to provide us with a point of departure.

I am grateful to you for having advised your staff that I shall henceforth be able to reach you without having to reenact the storming of the Bastille. Please rest assured that I shall not take unfair advantage of your time. I shall be off to Hong Kong in a couple of days and return to Los Angeles on January 4, after which I hope we can exchange progress reports by telephone.

With warmest thanks,

Yours cordially,

Henri
