Darling,

I'm not going to write you a very long letter because I wrote you all the news yesterday. But seeing I do love you I shall at least attempt to write you a little one.

We got a letter from Jim this morning, and he said the folks asked him about a million questions. And he told them that he slept over to Zella's house. I don't know why he should say that unless My Step-mother is kind of old fashioned. I know Esther said that the girl was kind of set in her ways.

Maybe this Cousin of yours might be able to do you some good. That would be swell if you could come here and get a job just as soon as you get here. I hope you do. That would be that much worry off my mind. The factories must be hiring by this time and I imagine by the time you get here all the high school kids will be back in school and you ought to have a good chance.

Gee, Honey I sure would love to see you come home all dirty from work. And even if you were all dirty I would put my arms around you and give you a big kiss.

Floydie just came up with some ice cream and I'm now eating a dixie cup. Want a bite, Honey?

I'll write you a big letter Mon.

So long, sweet.

Yours,

Evabel

P.S. I'm going to the show to-morrow. Zella is treating me.
