Darling,

I just arrived back to Detroit and missing you already. I had an awfully nice trip back home. But every time I would look out of the window I seemed to see your face. I was sitting next to some girl and she had been to Cleveland for the first time and was just returning to Detroit.

Zella was very glad to see me. Add Floydie was so glad to see me. He was pestering me all evening. He was so tickled to get those guns. and Zella was so tickled about the doilies. Tell your mother that she loved it. I'm letting her use mine too because she wants one on the radio and one on the table. Floydie is writing you a letter too.

He saw me writing and he asked me if I was writing Jack a letter and he decided to write you a letter too.

Honey, Tell your mother + Dad that I want to thank them for everything they did and that I think they are the most wonderful people I know and that I couldn't pick out a better mother and father-in-law even if I had picked you out for that purpose alone. But of course you know I don't think I did. But you can't never tell can you, sweet?

O k yls, darling, I only have one more stamp left. I want be needing many stamps after you come so you had better hurry up and come. Well it is now Mon and I just came from job-hunting. and honest there is nothing doing things are so slow. If something doesn't break pretty

I'm going to go someplace. Honey, if you have something else to do some where home you take it until I write to you and tell you things are better. Because I don't want you to come here just to ~~the~~ walk the streets. Maybe you can just get some temporary work that will first last maybe a month or so, and then you will have more ^{money} and you can stay here longer. Everyone here is complaining about things but things are bound to beak here in about two weeks. But try to work as long as you can in O'Fallon

Ann is over here now and she isn't working either. Things here are pretty bad.

Does your mother miss me much? Gosh I sure do miss her and all the rest of the family. Floydie and Sonny are so glad to see me, they pester me all the time.

See I sure did have a swell time out there in O. Berlin. I wish I were back there right now. I love it there. I'll bet it seems kind of lonesome out there without me. It is so lonesome out here with out you.

Sunday is trying to kiss me. He is so sweet. Zilla was n't expecting me in until noon. But she was very glad to see me.

Well, honey, I'll close now and I'll write you a long letter to-morrow.

I love you very much.

your own,
Evelyn.
