Hello Sweet,

I'm very glad that you enjoyed my letter and it didn't take me the week - end to write it either. I wrote it on Sat, nite. Or rather I started on Sat afternoon

Of course I was glad to hear that you are working for two more weeks. Maybe you will be able to find things to do around there for another month or so.

No dear, I want you to go to Toledo. Now if you come to Detroit you'd have to work here and live here. and I don't want to live here after I'm married. after I get a job I'm going to work for a while anyway. Because I do need clothes and I'm going to buy so many clothes that they will last at least 2 or 3 years. And you too. You ought to get at least a couple of more suits.

I was out this morning again. The agencies want to sight on the spot if they get you a job which I haven't got, so I have to wait for my school to help me out.

My, my, that desert sure was something to brag about. You are almost as bad as my brother Ben. He can twist up more things into food than anybody I know, and he can think up more new dishes than I know too. But, by the way, how did that contrivance (my own word) trape?

I wrote to my sister in Cleveland and asked her to send me a coat, you see she has gotten very fat in the past year so ought to have a coat that would fit me. She has lots of coats, after all "Beggars can't be choosers"

Sandy always asks me if I'm writing to Jack. He knows already and the other day Floydie called you Uncle Jack, I don't know whether he did it unconsciously or what, maybe he wanted to say Uncle Jim and I was talking about you so he just said Uncle Jack.

Is it very cold out in O Berlin It is awfully cold here. It is almost like winter.

Sister, dear, will you send me some stamps I have run out of them, and I haven't much money to spare.

Woney, how much money have you got saved up or how much will you have by Sat^r, also will you tell me what the surprise is? and when will you tell it to me?

Well, darling, I can't think of another thing to say except that I love you, Well so long, sweet, your own,

Evelyn.
