Dearest,

I got your letter this morning and also the dollar in it. Thank you for the dollar. Are you sure you can spare it.

about your question about coming in Yellbuckin' or having me come in to Oboe, have you know that is impossible. Do you remember what your mother said?

Well even if you can't remember that I did. I know your mother said that because she thought it was for our own good. So I'm just taking that you granted.

When I wrote you about the sweetest day of the year I wasn't trying to through up anything to you about the good point of another fellow. What I was trying to do to find out if I mean as much to you as I did last year. It's really little things like that that mean so much and then you forget them. They hurt so much. You may not realize that but they mean so much to a girl. But please try to forget it and we won't say nothing more about it.

I don't know why but I feel so down in the dumps and I kind of guess it's all an account of you. Why do you get me so low?

Sunday Jella and I went to the show. I saw "Knight without Armor" with Marlene Dietrich and Robert Donat and that was swell. I also "Ding and be Happy" with Tony Martin and Jack Ray.
That wasn't so hot. But it was rather entertaining.

Of course we'd be glad to see you. I kind of guess that's what we need is to see each other to bring us out of our slumps. Just imagine opening the door and who would be standing there but Jack.

"My Darling, Am and blue, just thinking of you" because you're in "Beautiful Ohio" and "Far, Far away. I'm missing you."

and wishing you were on the middle of the kiss with me "I love you truly" and hoped to you will too always."

"Soon, maybe not tomorrow but soon. We will have our "cabin of dreams" and" then you get "a little his each morning and a little his each night." And maybe we will have a "Kid in the back cornered pants" and he will call you "my Dad" and me "Mother" and then let's grow old together and come to the end of a perfect day.

"Your Babe"

How you like it? almost as good as your's huh?

Yours,

Evalul.

“My Darling” “Am I Blue” “Just thinking of you” because you’re in “Beautiful Ohio” and I’m “Far, Far away.” I’m “Missing you” and wishing you were “In the middle of a kiss” with me. “I love you truly” and hope that you will too “Always.” “Soon, Maybe but Tomorrow but Soon.” We will have our “Cabin of dreams” and then you get “A little kiss each Morning and a little kiss each Night.” And Maybe we will have a “Kid in the three cornered pants” and he will call you “My Dad” and me “Mother” and then “Let’s grow old together and “Come to the end of a perfect Day” “Your Babe” How you like it? Almost as good as yours huh?

Your,
