Dear Mr. Temianka,

I am sorry there were some misunderstandings regarding our date for next season. Instead of delving into long explanations, let me just say that the problems have been resolved and I should like to reaffirm that I shall be happy to perform the Travis and the Liszt Malediction with you on Feb. 8th 1970.

I am highly complimented by your suggestion that we do a sonata recital in Phoenix. But my experience in this respect is unfortunately limited, and my schedule being as crowded as it is — I am afraid I shall not be able to do justice to such an undertaking with you this season. I do hope I may have a rain-check for a future occasion.

With kindest regards,

David Bar-IlIan
