Darling,

Sunday afternoon and I'm at your folks. We had a swell dinner. We had spare ribs, potatoes, fried Parsnips sliced tomatoes, gravy and pie & tea. Of course you know, Darling, every time we come here everything is always good. And now we are just resting. your mother is lying on the cot and your Dad is just sitting in his chair smoking and I'm writing to to my darling hubby.

It's cold out to-day but it is beautiful. The sun is shining so nice. This is just the kind of a day that you would enjoy going for a ride.

I've got your package all ready and I shall mail it out to-morrow the first thing I hope everything gets there ok. I forgot to put some handkerchiefs in for you, but I shall do that in the next one. Tell me what you want because I'll be sending you packages and you might as well have the stuff you want. I shall try to send you things I should think you'd need, but seeing I was in the army so many years ago (back in '14) I have quite forgotten you what you need.

Last night I went out. I went with Ida, Libby, and Lorna (Dove's girl). At the beginning of the evening, I went to town with Dolly

I bought you your towels and bought a service flag for my window and also I bought one for your mother with two stars. and she was so tickled she put it in her front window right away. I bought a yellow blouse and a pair of yellow ankle socks. And then we went over to Dolly's and I called Ida, she had asked me, and then we went to Lorraine (in Ida's car) after I left Bill & Dolly's. We went over to Libby's and Lorna was there so we went to Deutchoff's and then we all got hungry and went to the Cozy Corners and had Chicken Poprikant. We didn't get home till about 2:30. But we all enjoyed ourselves immensely. We have all got men in the service and so we have a mutual bond. Some night, I imagine on a Sat. They are all going to spend the night with me. We ought to have a good time. I like Libby, she is the best soldier. I've never seen her down, I'm a good soldier too (I think) I'm always cheerful, why shouldn't I be when I have such a smart husband who gets selected out of 300 soldiers to be in the signal corps. Darling I'm so proud. I've told every one about you.

Well, Sweet heart, we are going to eat supper and I want to get some ice cream for our pie. I love you, my Darling and send you all my love and kisses.

your own
Fink.
