

Chapman University

Chapman University Digital Commons

Jack P. Bell Second World War Correspondence Collection

CAWL Archives: Second World War

3-30-1943

1943-03-30, Jack to Evabel

Jack P. Bell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection

Recommended Citation

Bell, Jack P., "1943-03-30, Jack to Evabel" (1943). Jack P. Bell Second World War Correspondence Collection. 130.

https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection/130

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the CAWL Archives: Second World War at Chapman University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Jack P. Bell Second World War Correspondence Collection by an authorized administrator of Chapman University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact laughtin@chapman.edu.

1943-03-30, Jack to Evabel

Keywords

March, 1943; 1943; United States; Camp Butner, N.C.; Elyria, Ohio; army; soldiers; troops; signal corps; infantry; correspondence; postal service; wife; husband; women at home; women; love; romance; family; mother; father; son; friendship; recreation and entertainment; education; marching and drill; training; newspapers; periodical; Rommel, Erwin; military leaders; Germany; youth; rank; military unit; company; gifts; gifts from home

Identifier

2014.160.w.r_Bell_worldwartwo_1943-03-31_008

Priv. J. P. Bell

78th. Sig. Co. 78th. Div.

Camp Butner, Va.

A. P. O. 78

Free

Mrs. Jack Bell
345 W. River St.
Elyria, Ohio

March 31, 1943
Camp Butner, N. C.

Dearest Wife,

Got your letter today, darling, the one you wrote Sunday at the folks'. I also got one from Mom and Dad today, and she told about you coming over.

Glad to hear you had such a good time out with the girls, Saturday nite. It sounded like a real good time.

To tell you the truth, honey, I really don't have much to write about tonite, unless I start repeating myself. Our days are sort of routine right now. Mostly classes. After while when I get into specialized training I'll probably have something new to write about. Anyway, if you don't get tired of hearing me say I love you, I'll still have something to write about. I never tire of hearing you say it.

the left sleeve right under the shoulder seam. They're pretty snappy looking.

Once again thanks to everyone for the gifts. In the army I use everyone of them everyday.

Well darling, this isn't much of a letter, maybe tomorrow I'll have more to write.

All my love and lots of kisses,

Your own,
Jack

The war news is getting better every mite. Kids get into the post in the afternoon with the Durham and Raleigh papers. I always take a look at the headlines. I think these days will go down in history as Rommel's last stand. Let's hope he doesn't stand many hours longer.

As near as I can figure out Henderson must be south and west of here. Just about every afternoon when we're standing retreat I see a bus heading in that direction marked Henderson.

In a few weeks we'll be getting our insignia. It's a semicircle of red with a white streak of lightning in it. If I should happen to get an extra one I'll send it to you. Would you like it? It's not likely that they'll give me too many, but I can buy them at the PX. The insignia is worn ~~at~~ on the left shoulder or I should say high up on

[JACK P. BELL CORRESPONDENCE MARCH 1943 – APRIL 1943 #8]

[Page 1 – Envelope]

Pvt. J.P. Bell

Free

78th. Sig. Co. 78th. Div.

[[Image: Military post-mark

Camp Butner, N.C.

stamp, with print text

A.P.O. 78

“CAMP BUTNER / N.C”

encircling date:

“APR 1 / 3 PM / 1943”]]

Mrs. Jack Bell

345 W. River St.

Elyria, Ohio

[Page 2 – Letter]

March 31, 1943
Camp Butner, N.C.

Dearest Wife,

Got your letter today, darling, the one you wrote Sunday at the folks'. I also got one from Mom and Dad today, and she told about you coming over.

Good to hear you had such a good time out with the girls, Saturday nite. It sounded like a real good time.

To tell you the truth, honey, I really don't have much to write about tonite, unless I start repeating myself. Our days are sort of routine right now. Mostly classes. After while when I get into specialized training I'll probably have something new to write about. Anyway, if you don't get tired of hearing me say I love you, I'll still have something to write about. I never tire of hearing you say it.

[Page 3 – Letter continued]

- 3 -

the left sleeve right under the shoulder seam. They're pretty snappy looking.

Once again thanks to everyone for the gifts. In the army I use every one of them every day.

Well, darling, this isn't much of a letter, maybe tomorrow I'll have more to write.

All my love and lots of kisses.

Your own,

[[underscore]] Jack
[[/underscore]]

- 2 -

The war news is getting better every nite.

Kids get into the post in the afternoon with the Durham and Raleigh papers. I always take a look at the headlines. I think these days will go down in history as Rommel's last stand. Let's hope he doesn't stand many hours longer.

As near as I can figure out
Henderson

must be south and west of here. Just about every afternoon when we're standing retreat I see a bus heading in that direction marked Henderson.

In a few weeks we'll be getting our insignia. It's a semicircle of red with a white streak of lightning in it. If I should happen to get an extra one I'll send it to you. Would you like it? It's not likely that they'll give me too many, but I can buy them at the PX. The insignia is worn [[image: scratched-out "at"]] on the left shoulder or I should say high up on