Dear Mr. Temianka:

I am terribly sorry not to have acknowledged your letter and the paper on String Teaching. I did receive it, I have not read it, but I look forward to doing so. I plead constant and unremitting pressure of paper work as my only excuse. Your paper I have set aside for a little more leisurely reflection than would have been possible during this period immediately past. I assure you I will be in touch in the near future, when I have had a chance to peruse it adequately.

With very best regards,

Sincerely,

Stephen Benedict
