My dear Leo,

We are ofcourse enchanted with your letter advising us that you will be joining us in Paris and that Maude will be able to be with us also for one week. Please advise the date of your arrival in Paris, as this is not mentioned in your letter.

I am still awaiting news of our hotel in Paris, but expect a telephone call from Paris later today and shall try to give you the information before mailing this letter. We would have to arrive in Paris no later then September 7, since the competition starts on the 8th. We are toying with the idea of first going to Budapest for a few days, as everybody tells us how exciting that city is. We have never been there. Would you join us there too?

After the Paris competition I would have to return to the United States rather promptly, as I have a heavy concert season for which rehearsals will have to begin in the last week of September.

Looking forward to our reunion.

Yours ever,

Henri Temianka
