Dear Don:

The sumptuous bible for non-profit corporations, which you have so generously offered us, has arrived in today's mail. We deeply appreciate this thoughtful gift, and will live henceforth by its dictates.

While you were gallivanting in Europe, I did try to reach Mr. Belkin but could not get through to him personally. An assistant returned the call, evidently under the impression that I had some base ulterior motive in calling. I do hope we shall be hearing something positive before too long.

With warm appreciation for all your concerns and support,

Yours always,

Henri Temianka
