Dearest Darling,

Here I am in Henderson again. Gee it seems swell to be out in the world again. It's a beautiful Saturday evening here. Please excuse me for not writing last nite, but I never got through with my work till 8:30 so I just took a shower, and tumbled into bed.

I got your wonderful letter yesterday. You little teaser you, you know very well I get a hard on every time you describe a little outfit for you or me, and do I love them. Oh, darling you still know exactly what I like. Don't you? You can describe one any time you like, lover. You get in all the flources and fills you know I like. Baby, you're the sweetest little outfit describer ever, and when I come home - mmm!

Yes, darling I'm glad you're letting Dizzy and Lenore use our apartment for their first couple nights. It will be so much nicer for them to be alone. Wish them luck and happiness for me.

I got a letter from Aunt Della today. She tells me Russ is in Miami, Fla. waiting to ship out.

Sweetie, have I reminded you lately what a wonderful sweetheart you are, and how much I love you. Well lover, it just seems as if mere words can't begin to describe how much I love you, but I guess they'll have to do until I come home, and I can show you with my arms around you tight, and my lips on yours. You are such a cute sweetie, and a sweet cutie, and I love you so very very much. You are my darling Fink.

Tomorrow morning I think I'll sleep real late. I don't think I'll even try to get up before eight o'clock. Maybe even 8:15 if I can stay in bed that long. I don't think I can tho'. After you get used to getting up early Sundays and all you sort of get out of the habit of sleeping late.

Tomorrow is our anniversary, sweetie. One more month will make seven years since we met. Hasn't the time gone fast, darling? It seems like it was only fast nite that you shoved me off that rail (I guess will never forget that, will we darling?) And yet, it seems we've known and loved each other all our lives.

It's too bad you've been having such mean rainy weather. We've had a week of perfect summer here. I just noticed a thermometer this afternoon which read 88°. It's been a little too dry for gardens tho'. Art planted some cabbages, and lost all of them. The rain should be distributed a little more evenly, huh?

You have a right to feel proud about your bond buying, sweetie. I'm proud of you too. Your handling everything swell. We'll have a good start for our own home, and I don't think I'll waste any time in getting it started when I come home. Wont that be wonderful to have a porch and our own yard - solid comfort.

Well darling I guess I've run down again so with hugs and kisses I'll say so long to my sweet little wife whom I love very very much,

Yours always,
Jack
