Dearest Fink,

Honey, will you please excuse me for falling down on the letter writing? I didn't know till I got your letter Sunday when you were planning to come down here so I held off thinking maybe you wouldn't get one anyway.

It's ten o'clock. You're on the train now. I hope you have a pleasant trip, darling, and have a good time in Washington. It's a great town to see.

The way I have it figured out, sweetie, you'll arrive in Henderson sometime Thursday so if nothing comes up I'll be over Thursday evening.

It's going to be so wonderful having you near me, lover. We'll have some good times together in N.C. just as we do no matter where we are.

I got a letter from Chuck today. He got his advancement. He's now a staff sergeant.

He sure is doing swell. More power to him. I'm mighty proud of my kid brother.

Well, darling I'll say so long for now,
and go to bed and dream of my sweet little wife whom I love so very very much.

Your Own,
Jack

P.S. Say hello to Genevieve, art and the girls for me.
