Dear Henri:

Your letter arrived on Saturday afternoon. This is doubtless because you were so stingy that you would not pay first class postage on it. I return the envelope to show how carefully you downgraded your own work.

I think this was unwarranted. The article is excellent. I would go so far as to say that I found it fascinating. I don't see how you find the time to do so many things and to do them all so well.

I saw Sam Gould at a clam bake and square dance on Friday night and told him how pleased I was that he had made arrangements with you. He expressed well-modulated gratification. I said nothing about our conversation.

As ever yours,

Robert M. Hutchins
