Dear Bob,

Rumor has it that the pearls of wisdom scattered in such reckless profusion at our two day symposium on the arts have already been distributed in the form of sound tapes to a privileged few in lieu of good-conduct medals. Do you know anyone at the Center influential enough to intervene in my behalf? I would be interested in both the tape and the printed account.

The reason I have remained silent on recent Mondays (the day your brilliant column appears in the Los Angeles Times) is that I am on a concert tour in the East, living from hand to mouth as I flee from city to city. I managed to interrupt the sordid business long enough to celebrate a wedding anniversary with Emmy in Las Vegas last weekend. I shall be back in Los Angeles on February 15.

Yours ever,

HENRI TEMIANKA

P.S. Mr. Temianka has sent this letter dictated on a tape, and I am signing it for him so that you will receive it sooner.
