Dear Henri:

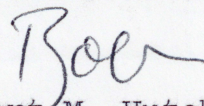

I am much distressed to find that you sang your swan song in my absence. I wish I could have been here to applaud.

But you begin singing again with the opening of the next academic year, don't you?

I was deeply touched by your generous letter. Whatever good you find in my writings you may conscientiously attribute to the conversations you and I have had since that evening many years ago in Aspen when I first sat at your feet.

Please give our love to Emmy. Let's get together somewhere soon.

As ever yours,

Robert M. Hutchins
President
