Dear Henri:

It has taken me a long time to recover from my last trip East. I asked Vesta to telephone you, but I do not know whether she ever got you. We expected the plane to take off on time and received word up to the last minute that it would do so. Finally we were informed that incoming planes could not land. We were put into a bus that arrived in Los Angeles at 20 minutes of 12. My plane left at 11:45.

I am ashamed to have caused you so much inconvenience. I hope that you will come to see me in Santa Barbara during August nevertheless.

As ever yours,

Robert M. Hutchins
