Dearest Sweetheart.

Good Honey I sure am a tired kid. yesterday I washed clothes and to-night I had to go over after them and take them all down and when I brought them home I thought I was too tired to iron so I would just let it go till to-morrow and instead I proceed to give the kitchen a good cleaning. I scrubbed the stove, the refrigerator and washed all the dishes and emptied all the garbage and waste paper in the furnace so I might just as well have ironed I did as much work. But I'm as glad when I do it. I love my furniture and I take pride in having everything look nice. I love to wash my stove and refrigerator, they glisten so when they are clean.

Darling, your letter to-day was such a sweet one, (as usual they all are). Now I should be the one to give you moral support and instead you have to give it to me. But, Honestly, Honey, I don't need any, I have so much more to be thankful for than a lot of other girls

At least I have a nice comfortable home of my very own, no debts and a wonderful husband to wait for, I have my own car to run around in and I'm not broke. It's just that sometimes I get a little angry because I can't be with my Darling, whom I love so very much, as often as I'd like to be. But then, perhaps, it won't be so very long until we will be together for good.

Phil came home from Baltimore today. He said he had a job there for a week and made $50. It's something I don't understand however. He got a notice in the mail to report for pre-induction examination and he's had it once already. There is some screwy someplace.

Darling, if & when you get a job, how long do you think it will be? - Camp Pickett is only about 150 miles from Henderson so if you get stationed there perhaps you can visit some of our friends and Genevieve. I hope I will be able to go with you.

Just as soon as you get there you find out how possible it is for me to come down there. You do want me to come with you, Don't you Darling? Well, sweetheart it looks like the bottom of the page is coming up to greet you. I'm sending you lots of hugs & kisses all my love - your Own, Faith
