Darling Sweetheart, Apr 3.

Such weather we Ohioans are having, here it is April already and it's still snowing. I just wonder if it will ever be nice again.

I was down town to-day and I bought the cutest Easter basket for Denny. It is just adorable. I'm making it all up my self. He is such a sweet little person.

I got to reading again to-night and here it is 12:30 before I get my letter written to you. What a gal I am. you know me though, once I get to reading, I don't know when to quit.

I was over to Ida's to-night for a while. She had taken pictures that Sunday I was in Cleveland and she had just gotten them developed. They were pretty good. When you come home I will show them to you. There is one there especially that will interest you. It's a doozy.

Well, Sweetheart I finally got my first letter from you to-day since last Wednesday. I'm glad you are O.K. But I was sorry to hear you had the blues. I guess a good funny movie will cure most cases of blues.

We had a little excitement at the store to-day. A little boy got hit by an automobile and they brought him into the store. He wasn't hit very bad. He just got a gash on his head. But I guess it scared him more than any thing else.

Well, Baby Dear, I guess this will be another short one. I'll try to write more next time.

I'll send you lots of hugs and kisses and I hope you return them in person.

all my love,
Your Devon,
Finch.
