Belo Horizonte, August 17, 1981.

Dear Sir,

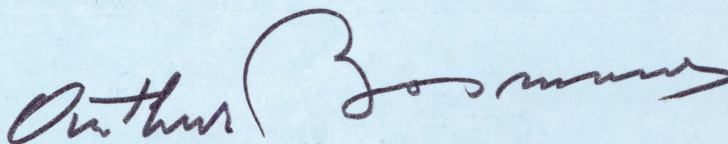

I have sent to the address of your Orchestra, on August 12, the printed score of my suite "Lyrica", with a dedicatory. As this sending was done by surface mail, I suppose it has not yet reached you, but I should like to hear, in time, your opinion about it. As it is scored for a reduced number of winds and strings, I thought it well fitted for a chamber symphony.

I should like to know whether you are the same person as the violinist which I remember from Antwerp, before the war. In this case it would be nice from you to give me some notices, maybe using the french or flemish language.

In any eventuality I have annexed to this letter a short notice about myself.

I will be glad to hear something from you, and, looking for it, I remain, Dear Sir,

Sincerely Yours

Arthur Bosmans

P.S. I should like to signalate that my suite "La Vie en Bleu" published (score and parts) by Salabert, is scored for the same instruments as the "Lyrica".
