My Dear Bonnie:

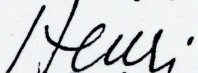

Emmy and I are waiting to hear from you about the baby! Don't fail to give us the news.

At a time like this it seems frivolous to think of anything else, nonetheless I need to know when you are arriving in Los Angeles, particularly as I am leaving for Europe and need to complete all rehearsal arrangements beforehand. The rehearsal for the Oceanside concert will take place on the day itself in the afternoon. This is a matter of no concern. What I am concerned with is the necessary rehearsal times for the Beethoven Trio, as your two partners have very heavy schedules. Please let my office know on what date you expect to arrive. If we have that information, then we can schedule the rehearsals. Hopefully you can get here by Wednesday, which would enable us to schedule rehearsals on Thursday and Friday. Obviously, there is no time on Saturday, and when we return to Los Angeles on Sunday, it is not likely that anyone will want to have an extensive rehearsal.

Please let us know.

With much love from Emmy and me,

Yours always,

Henri Temianka
