10-27-1944

Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence #408

Jack P. Bell
Subject Terms
Jack P. Bell; October 27, 1944; World War, 1939 - 1945; World War Two; United States; War and Civilization -- History -- 20th Century; United States. Army; United States. Army. 78th Infantry Division; United States. Regimental histories 78th Signal Company; United States. Regimental histories 78th Infantry Division; Elyria (Ohio) -- History -- 20th Century; Women - History - 20th Century; Nineteen Forties; World War, 1939 -- 1945 -- Soldiers; World War, 1939 -- 1945 -- Women; World War, 1939 -- 1945 -- Economic Aspects; War - Economic Aspects - England

Keywords
October, 1944; 1944; United States; New York, N.Y.; Elyria, Ohio; army; soldiers; troops; signal corps; correspondence; V-mail; postal service; infantry; wife; husband; women at home; women; love; romance; censorship; automobiles; transportation; Englad; English; money; economy; finances; budget

Identifier
2014.160.w.r_Bell_worldwartwo_1944-10-27_031

Copyright
The Center for American War Letters Archives promotes open access to its collections for “private study, scholarship, or research” subject to the intellectual property rights of others. Chapman University may not hold copyright or intellectual property rights to all items in the collections, and contents may be subject to restricted access or use. As a condition of accessing and using material from the Archives, you agree that you are responsible for obtaining all required consents of any copyright holder and to indemnify and hold the University harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, that may arise from any third party claims for copyright infringement, torts, or invasion of publicity or privacy rights. You further acknowledge and agree that photocopies or other reproductions may only be made with the University’s prior approval. Requests will be considered on a case by case basis and approval will be in the University’s sole discretion.

This letter is available at Chapman University Digital Commons: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection/410
Dearest darling,

I received your letter postmarked the 12th today. It must have gotten sort of screwed up so yesterday's mail was postmarked the 16th. Anyway, just as I get letters from my baby. These automobiles over here are really amusing. Some of them are really small.

I turned my money in to be changed to English currency. Now I'll have to learn the values.

Sweetie, have I reminded you lately how very much I love you. You're such a sweet little wife. I think of you all day and dream of you at night, and wish I could be glad when that five day comes along that I can tell you how wonderful you are. You're the person. Goodnight, sweetheart. Your own, Jack.

Oct. 27, 1944
Oct. 27, 1944

Dearest darling,

I received your letter postmarked the 12th today. It must have gotten sort of screwed up as yesterday’s mail was postmarked the 16 [[Image: ink-blot]]

Anyway just so I get letters from my baby.

These automobiles over here are really amusing. Some of them are really small.

I turned my money in to be changed to English currency. Now I’ll have to learn the values.

Sweetie, have I reminded you lately how very much I love you. You’re such a sweet little wife. I think of you all day, and dream of you at nite, and will I ever be glad when that fine day comes along that I can tell you how wonderful you are – in person. Good nite sweetheart, Your Own, [underscore] Jack [underscore]

[[Image: Footer, including typed text ensuring writers have filled in all fields completely]]