12-17-1944

Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence #435

Jack P. Bell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection

Recommended Citation
Bell, Jack P., "Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence #435" (1944). Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence Collection. 437. https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection/437

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the CAWL Archives: Second World War at Chapman University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence Collection by an authorized administrator of Chapman University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact laughtin@chapman.edu.
Dearest Sweetheart,

Here it is Sunday evening, just that it makes much difference over here. It's just another day.

Honey, J.L. Bell Henderson does hold a lot of memories. We sure did have some good times there. Have you seen Mrs. Turner? She's certainly a grand person.

Darling, you are the sweetest, dearest and most wonderful wife in the whole wide world. I love you so, and keep thinking how wonderful it's going to be when I can talk to you in person, and give you one of those big bear hugs, and a kiss. Well, baby here's the bottom of the page and bedtime too, so I'll see you in my dream.

Yours always,

Jack
In Belgium

Dearest Sweetheart,

Here it is Sunday evening, not that it makes much difference over here. It’s just another day.

Honey, I’ll bet Henderson does hold a lot of memories. We sure did have some good times there. Have you seen Mrs. Turner? She’s certainly a grand person.

Darling, you are the sweetest, dearest and most wonderful wife in the whole wide world. I love you so, and keep thinking how wonderful it’s going to be when I can tell you in person, and give you one of those big bear hugs, and a kiss.

Well, baby here’s the bottom of the page, and bed – time too, so I’ll see you in my dream,

Yours allways [sic],

[underscore] Jack [underscore]