1-21-1946

Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence #456

Jack P. Bell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection

Recommended Citation
Bell, Jack P., "Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence #456" (1946). Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence Collection. 458.
https://digitalcommons.chapman.edu/bell_collection/458

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the CAWL Archives: Second World War at Chapman University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Jack P. Bell World War Two Correspondence Collection by an authorized administrator of Chapman University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact laughtin@chapman.edu.
Mrs. Jack Bell
345 W. River St.
Elyria, Ohio
Dearest darling,

I got your Shorty Bell of the fourth today, sweetie. I'm sorry the mail service is so lousy. I know just how difficult it is to write when the letters don't come in. I'm beginning to think that half the letters don't even get there.

I'm just getting ready to go on guard. It's going to be a swell feeling when I'm a civilian, and won't have to ever pull guard again.

Darling, I love you so very much. I hope you don't tire of hearing me say how much I want to come home to you. It's all I can think of anymore. Every day that passes is one closer to that good old home. Won't we be two happy kids when we're back in each other's arms, and all this separation is just a memory. You're such a dear, sweet, precious sweetheart. I'm going to take you in my arms and never let you go. We have so much lovemaking to catch up on, and how you're going to be loved darling. I'm in paradise when I hold you close. I always try to tell
You in a letter how much I love you, and what a precious darling you are, but I never seem to do a very good job of it, but when I come home I'll show you sweetie.

I'll have to wrap this up now honey. all my love and millions of hugs and kisses.

Your lover,

Jack
Pvt. John P. Bell 35052495
279th. QM Ref. Co. APO 169
C/O PM New York, N.Y.

VIA AIR MAIL

Mrs. Jack Bell
345 W. River St.
Elyria, Ohio
Dearest darling,

I got you Shorty Bell of the fourth today sweetie. I’m sorry the mail service is so lousy. I know just how difficult it is to write when the letters don’t come in. I’m beginning to think that half the letters don’t even get there.

I’m just getting ready to go on guard. It’s going to be a swell feeling when I’m a civilian, and won’t have to ever pull guard again.

Darling I love you so very much. I hope you don’t tire of hearing me say how much I want to come home to you. It’s all I can think of anymore. Every day that passes is one closer to that good one honey. Won’t we be two happy kids when we’re back in each other’s arms, and all this separation is just a memory. You’re such a dear sweet precious sweetheart. I’m going to take you in my arms and never let you go. We have so much lovemaking to catch up on, and how you’re going to be loved darling. I’m in paradise when I hold you close. I always try to tell you in a letter how much I love you, and what a precious darling you are,
-2-
but I never seem to do a very good job of it, but when I come home I’ll show you sweetie.
I’ll have to wrap this up now honey. All my love and millions of hugs and kisses.
Your lover,
[[underline]] Jack [[/underline]]