Darling Fink,

I've just received the package of air mail stationary so thought I'd write this short one and let you know. I'll write you a nice long letter on the new stationary tonight. Thanks a million, sweetie.

Here it is the last day of February. Spring is just around the corner. It never makes me angry to see the end of winter.

"Buffalo Bill" is playing at the post-theater tonight. I think I'll go to see it. Have you seen it? I hope it's good as they've really had some lousy pictures there lately.

I had a nice letter from Madelyn yesterday. She said she'd just returned from Chicago. Yes, Jim had told me about their new house. That's nice.

I'll wind this up for now, honey. All my love, and millions of hugs and kisses.
