January 13, 1983

Dear Mr. Temianka:

Where I grew up - in Switzerland - the delightful custom of exchanging Christmas cards is not known. Instead of that, friends wish each other happiness, good health, and good fortune at the beginning of January - in the form of an attractive card, usually featuring a winter scene.

Unfortunately, I do not have a snowy landscape for you, but I do have a soaring balloon - and I do wish to convey to you my warmly felt good wishes in every respect for your New Year.

Cordially,

Joseph A. Broger
