My darling,

England - March 26

This mail service is really getting good. I got three letters from you today, and one, an airmail was written, and postmarked on the 19th. Just a week.

Madelyn's new place sounds plenty allright. Sure glad they have such a cozy little home.

You must be getting very slim, darling. I love you anyway tho' sweetie - fat or slim. You're my sweet cutie, and my cute sweetie.

I also had a letter from Mom and Dad, and one from Ben and Sena. Ben says he misses the old get togethers, and thinks we should really put one on when everyone gets home. Of course I agree with him, don't you?

I didn't get that pass a week ago Sunday which I thought I would, but I got into town yesterday. It was a beautiful day, and it sure seemed nice to get into the city. After I leave this place I'll be able to tell you some of the things I've seen. Sometimes I almost wish I had a camera, but it wouldn't be prac.

tial, at all the way I'm knocking around. I'd either break it or lose it in about a week.

Ken Adams is pretty much of a blowtop, but what he told you is all true. When I left, R. J. told me that if you ever needed legal assistance or advice or help in any way that he'd be only too glad to do anything he could. I believe I told you that at the time. He's a swell boss, and his word is solid.

I talked to Chuck on the phone tonite. Had a poor connection, as usual, but it's good to hear his voice.

Honey, have I told ~~told~~ you lately how wonderful you are? You're such a precious darling. I think of you all day long, and I dream of you at nite, and I love you more and more each day. I'm wrapping up lots of hugs and kisses, and all my love.

Your Own,
Jack
