Fantasia in G

Timothy Mahr

Born in Reedsburg, Wisconsin, Timothy Mahr is known as a person who has ability, persistence, and optimism. By seriously studying music at every level, he has gained an enviable reputation as a performer, teacher, conductor, and composer. Mahr received degrees in music theory/composition and music education at St. Olaf College in Minnesota, as well as trombone performance and conducting at the University of Iowa. He has directed bands at Milaca High School (Minnesota) and the University of Minnesota/Duluth. Since 1994, Mahr has been the Conductor of the St. Olaf Band and teaches courses in composition, conducting and music education.

Fantasia in G was composed for the St. Olaf College Band in Minnesota and was premiered in January 1983. It is an unpretentious, joyful celebration for wind band. Its character is reflected in the German subtitle, translated "Joy, Bright Spark of Divinity," which is the opening line to the famous "Ode to Joy."

Salvation is Created

Pavel Tschesnokoff

A Russian composer who devoted himself exclusively to choral composition, both secular and sacred, Pavel Tschesnokoff embodies the traditional rich harmonic structure and use of the low bass. Devoted to his religion, Tschesnokoff was a composer for the Russian Orthodox church before the time when communism rose to power. Since the shift of governmental power brought greater control over what composers were permitted to write, Tschesnokoff was presented with two options: continue writing sacred choral works and have his family taken away and possibly killed by the ruling party; or, abandon his love of composing for the church and thus protect his life and that of his family. Tschesnokoff opted to save his family, and never composed another piece of sacred music.

Years after his death, communism fell, the Berlin Wall came down, the Russian Orthodox church opened its doors again, and Salvation is Created became the unofficial anthem of the church. Sadly, Tschesnokoff never heard the piece performed, but his children were finally able to hear it performed years later. The simple text of the hymn is as follows: *Salvation is created in the midst of the earth, O Lord, our God. Alleluia."

The Firebird (1919)

Igor Stravinsky

Igor Stravinsky, who originally intended to pursue a law career, was fortunately pointed toward music in a chance meeting with Rimsky-Korsakov in 1901. Fortunately the great composer and teacher took the nineteen-year-old and began teaching him in St. Petersburg where the young Stravinsky showed a quick and exceptional technical mastery of music. After Stravinsky’s first big success in St. Petersburg with Scherzo Fantastique, he impressed Serge Diaghilev, director of the Ballets Russes. Diaghilev invited Stravinsky to compose music for a pending ballet on a Russian folk legend. The work that resulted was The Firebird premiered in 1910 in Paris.
of the Firebird, Prince Ivan Tsarevich is straying in the enchanted garden of Kastchei, an alone ogre. Ivan is in pursuit of the dazzling firebird. Once he catches the bird as it flutters apples, he takes one feather and lets the bird go. Ivan next encounters thirteen captives of Kastchei. When a person would wander into the garden, a lady furthermore a man would be turned to stone by Kastchei. Just as Ivan is Kastchei's subjects, he waves the firebird's feather, thus summoning the firebird reveals to Ivan that Kastchei will die if his soul, encased in an egg, is shattered. the ogre dies. Enigma Variations
Edward Elgar
Writing to his friend August Jaeger in 1899, Elgar described a recently-completed composition: a set of variations that depict thirteen of his musical and non-musical friends. Elgar incorporates several "enigmas" into this work. The first is the theme itself, which he labels "enigma." Each variation is titled according to the person represented, but their identities are hidden by his use of initials and nicknames. (Elgar himself soon gave away the secret identities, however.) He also states that there is another larger theme, which is never actually played, that nevertheless runs "through and over" the entire work. Elgar’s biographers have expended reams of paper in pursuit of this mystery. Possible candidates proposed for the "larger theme" include: God Save the Queen, Auld Lang Syne, a theme from Mozart’s Cosi fan tutte, and the major scale. It has also been suggested that this unplayed theme might be a non-musical concept such as friendship. The answer is probably unknowable: the usually articulate Elgar was notably vague on this point. There is even the possibility that Elgar, whose sense of humor was well known to his friends and associates, was being deliberately obscure as a joke.

The Enigma Variations consists of a brief theme and fourteen variations to which Elgar adds a self-portrait to the depictions of his friends. Earl Slocum has selected six of the fourteen variations to transcribe for winds and percussion.

Theme — Andante
Elgar’s theme, only 17 measures long, is deceptively complex and contains a huge amount of melodic and harmonic raw material to be used in the succeeding variations.

Variation I ("C. A. E.") — L’istesso tempo
Caroline Alice Elgar was married to the composer in 1889, and according to Elgar, her life "...was a romantic and delicate inspiration." This section stays close to the harmonic and melodic outlines of the theme, but with ornamentation and lush orchestration.
Variation II ("W. M. B.") — Allegro di molto
In this variation, Elgar pokes gentle fun at a somewhat pompous country gentleman and scholar, William M. Baker. During one of Elgar’s visits to his home, Baker officiously read an itinerary of the day’s activities and left the music room with an inadvertent slam of the door. The tittering of his guests is heard near the middle.

Variation III ("R. P. A.") — Moderato
Richard P. Arnold, son of the poet Matthew Arnold, is characterized in this section. He is alternately solemn and lighthearted.

Variation IV ("G. R. S.") — Allegro di molto
George Robertson Sinclair was organist of Hereford Cathedral, but this music also refers to his bulldog Dan. One day, during a picnic, Dan slipped down a muddy bank into the River Wye, and had to swim for a time, looking for a place to climb out. In the opening bars, we hear Dan sliding down the slippery slope, paddling in the water, and barking with joy when he finds a landing-place. The more majestic tones of the brass depict Dan’s master.

Variation V ("Nimrod") — Adagio
The title is a labored pun on the name of August Jaeger, one of Elgar’s closest friends: "Jaeger" in German means "hunter," and Nimrod was the "mighty hunter" of the Book of Genesis. This movement is not a portrait of Jaeger’s forceful character, but rather depicts a long conversation between Elgar and Jaeger on the grandeur of Beethoven’s music. Elgar has provided some reminiscences of the slow movement of Beethoven’s "Pathetique" sonata in the opening bars.

Variation 14 ("E. D. U. -- Finale") — Allegro
The stirring finale is about Elgar himself: the initials refer to his nickname, "Edoo." The quotations from Variations I and V are programmatic: Elgar saw his wife Alice and August Jaeger as the two greatest influences on his life and his music.
University Wind Symphony

The Wind Symphony at Chapman University has earned a reputation for its breadth of musicality and consistently high level of performance. Since its formation in 1995, the ensemble has presented featured performances for the state conference of the California Association for Music Education (1997, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2007), the Invitational Band Festival at the Orange County Performing Arts Center, and the Orange County Millennium. The Wind Symphony tours bi-annually on the West Coast of the United States, and recently returned from a triumphant performance tour of Australia that included a featured performance in the world-renowned Sydney Opera House.

Most recently the University Wind Symphony received the prestigious honor of being selected to perform for the 2008 MENC (the National Association for Music Education) Biennial Conference to be held in April, 2008 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Selected by blind audition from over 200 university applicants, the Wind Symphony is one of only 2 university bands selected to perform at the nation's largest gathering of music professionals.
