Darling Fink

I got two letters from you tonight sweetie. Written on the fifteenth and the eighteenth. The one written the 18th. was postmarked Feb 20th, and bore this address so I'm glad you know where I am.

I was sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Rowley. He was a nice fellow.

You and Chuck sure made good time on your trip to Versailles, honey. I'm glad you had a chance to go. It made nicer travelling for Sis too than a train or bus would. I hope your cold is better now darling.

October is nearly gone. Then one more month, and 1945 is but a memory. The sooner the time goes the sooner I'll be with my little sweetheart, and that's the day I'm just existing for. I love you so very much darling. You're my cuddly lover, and my lovely cuddler, and I'm going to take you in my arms, and never let you go.

I'm enclosing millions of hugs and kisses, and all my love.

Your own,

Jack
