Darling Wife,

It's been a nice Thanksgiving day here. I hope every one at home enjoyed it. This is the last one will be apart-lover that's why it was a good one.

We had a swell dinner here. Turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, green beans, fruit cake, pumpkin pie and ice cream. Everything was good, but I'm spoiled when it comes to pumpkin pie. This wasn't anything like yours sweetie.

Tonite Leo and I went to the show and saw, "The Unseen." It wasn't too good.

While the war was going on we always got mail service seven days a week, but now they cut out Sundays and holidays. Maybe tomorrow will be a good day as the last letters came on Tuesday.

Darling have I reminded you lately what a sweet cutie and cute sweetie you are, and how very much I love you. I'm always thinking of the wonderful times we always have together, and how wonderful the future is going to be. It's paradise being married to you darling, and I'm just existing till that happy day when we can start enjoying our good way of life together again. We have so much lovemaking to catch upon that will just have to spend the rest of our lives making love.

Leo just said all he can think about is what kind of clothes he's going to buy. That's really going to be a lot of fun. It seems like such a long time since I've been able to decide for myself what kind of a suit I'll wear, and what color tie. We'll have swell times going shopping sweetie.

I'm going to hit the hay, and dream of my darling wife whom I love so very much. I'm enclosing millions of hugs and kisses and all my love.

Your own,
Jack
