Dear Martin:

Emmy and I were enchanted to hear from you after this long break in our cherished friendship. Our warmest congratulations on your marriage and simultaneously on all the greatly deserved honors that are coming your way.

We are equally delighted to know that David is doing so brilliantly. We shall look forward with much joy to seeing you and David again and to meeting Virginia.

I shall not make this letter as detailed as yours, but am sending you my new brochure to bring you more or less up to date. Dan, who is now twenty, is doing brilliantly on a fellowship at the Highland Labs where he is engaged in a project on hematology. He is most eager to see you.

David, eleven, is vitally involved in the campaign of McCarthy and knows more about all that is going on in politics than anyone in the family.

Let's hope for an early reunion. All good wishes,

Yours always,

Henri Temianka
