Program Notes

Ogoun Badagris derives its inspiration from Haitian drumming patterns, particularly those of the Juba Dance. Hence, it seemed logical to tie in the work with various aspects of Voodoo ritual. Ogoun Badagris is one of the oldest and strongest of all Voodoo loas (deities), where he is believed to represent metallurgy, hunting, politics, and war. As Ogoun’s terrible wrath is feared among his believers, this work may thus be interpreted as a dance of appeasement. The four conga drums often act as the focal point in the work and can be compared with the role of the four most basic drums in the Voodoo religion — the be-be, the seconde, the maman, and the asator. The metal plates and sleighbells are to a certain extent parallels of the Haitian ogan, a set of iron bells. The work begins with a brief action de grace, which is both a Thanksgiving to God and a ceremonial call-to-action, in which the high priest shakes the giant rattle known as the asson (here replaced by c abasa). The principle dance, while being firmly set in triple 6/8 meter, has polyrhythmic motives, set in a duple 2/4 meter, interwoven throughout. After many exchanges of solo fanfares and dramatic changes of texture, the work concludes with the Danse Vaudou, representing the moment at which the dancers would be overcome by spirit possession. The word “reler,” which the performers shriek at the conclusion of the work, is the Voodoo equivalent of the Judaeo-Christian amen. (Christopher Rouse & Nick Terry)

The title [Omphalo Centric Lecture] comes from a 1939 painting by Paul Klee - the direct & centered simplicity of which was an inspiration to me during the writing of this piece. The piece also owes much to African Balofon music, with its persistent ostinati, cross - rhythms & variations on simple melodic fragments. Like African music it seeks to celebrate life through rhythm, energy & movement. It was originally composed for the Sydney based percussion quartet “Synergy”. (Nigel Westlake)

The Concerto for Prepared Piano and Percussion is a summation of ideas and sounds developed over a period of eight years - my entire life in Australia, in fact. I found rhythms from my everyday life spilling into the music - breathing rhythms, the syncopation of the car door falling shut, as well as hypnotic, trance-like waves, the mechanical tinkling of miniature music boxes, and even a somewhat skewed Batucada (Brazilian Samba) band! (Erik Griswold)
Le Souvenir: four snare drums roll, seemingly in perpetuity. Along their way, they strike up an innocent conversation of simple rhythms. Flurried outbursts and stark silences are followed by an abrupt departure to a far afield environment. Le Souvenir, a memento or a keepsake, is offered at the conclusion. (Nick Terry)

Simple Addition: Deep grooves for vibraphone and marimba augmented by bowls, pots, springs & other found objects. (Erik Griswold)

Marimba Splash is an exuberant, rhythmically-charged new work for two marimba soloists and a quartet of percussion featuring a lush array of drums and metallic instruments (including tam tams, Chinese cymbals, spiral trash cymbals, muted gongs, ice bells, and numerous “splash” cymbals). Notable throughout the work is the use of an expanded and nuanced palette of sounds, including bowed cymbals placed and pitch-modulated on timpani, muted & bowed marimba, superball on tam tam, and alternating use of sticks/mallets/rutes on drums. (Nick Terry)

Composers

Christopher Rouse is one of America’s most prominent composers of orchestral music. His works have won a Pulitzer Prize (for his Trombone Concerto) and a Grammy Award (for Concert de Gaudi), as well as election to the prestigious American Academy of Arts and Letters. Rouse has created a body of work perhaps unequalled in its emotional intensity. The New York Times has called it "some of the most anguish, most memorable music around." The Baltimore Sun has written: "When the music history of the late 20th century is written, I suspect the explosive and passionate music of Rouse will loom large." Born in Baltimore in 1949, Rouse developed an early interest in both classical and popular music. He graduated from Oberlin Conservatory and Cornell University, numbering among his principal teachers George Crumb and Karel Husa. Rouse maintained a steady interest in popular music: at the Eastman School of Music, where he was Professor of Composition until 2002, he taught a course in the history of rock for many years. Rouse is currently a member of the composition faculty at The Juilliard School. In 2012, he began his two-year tenure as Composer-in-Residence with the New York Philharmonic.

Nigel Westlake’s career in music has spanned more than 3 decades. He studied the clarinet with his father, Donald Westlake (a prominent Australian musician & principal clarinetist with the Sydney Symphony orchestra 1961-1979), and subsequently left school early to pursue a performance career in music. Nigel toured Australia and the world playing with ballet companies, a circus troupe, chamber music groups, fusion bands and orchestras to the cities of London, New York, Rome, Washington, Tokyo, Beijing, Paris, Amsterdam, Vancouver, Moscow, Hong Kong, Berlin, New Delhi, and Singapore to name but a few. His interest in composition dates from the late 1970’s when he formed a classical/jazz-rock/world-music fusion band to play original music. During this time he started to receive offers to compose for radio and circus, to which commissions for TV and film soon followed.

Eclectic composer-pianist Erik Griswold fuses experimental, jazz and world music traditions to create works of striking originality. Specializing in prepared piano, percussion and toy instruments, he has created a musical universe all his own that is "sincere" (neural.it), "playful" (igloo magazine), "colourful and refreshingly unpretentious" (Paris Transatlantic). Since the late 1980s he has composed solo and chamber works for many adventurous performers in the U.S. and Australia, such as Margaret Leng Tan, Steven Schick, Either/Or Ensemble, Decibel, Kurilpa String Quartet, red fish blue fish, Speak Percussion, and many others. Griswold has lived in San Diego, Los Angeles, New York, Melbourne, Adelaide, and now calls Brisbane home. He is currently adjunct professor at Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University, and holds a PhD from University of California, San Diego.
Composers

Griswold has received grants, commissions, and/or fellowships from the Australia Council for the Arts, Arts Queensland, Brisbane City Council, Melbourne City Council, Astalinx Foundation, Queensland Music Festival, Melbourne Jazz Fringe Festival, Civitella Ranieri Foundation, and the InterArts Consortium of the University of California. His work can be heard on Mode Records, Room:40, Listen/Hear Collective, Einstein Records, Accretions/Circumvention, Move, Clocked Out, and Innova.

His music has been performed at major festivals and venues throughout Australia, the U.S., Asia, and Europe, including: Carnegie Hall, Asia Pacific Festival (Wellington), Bang on a Can Festival (New York), Big Sur Experimental Music Festival, Chengdu Arts Centre, El Cruc (Madrid), Los Angeles Philharmonic Green Umbrella Series (Los Angeles), London Jazz Festival, Queensland Music Festival (Brisbane), Shanghai International Festival, Sydney Opera House, Roulette and Tonic (New York).

Together with Vanessa Tomlinson, Griswold directs Clocked Out, which produces innovative concert series, events and tours. Clocked Out recently received the APRA-AMCOS "Award for Excellence by an Organisation" for their 2009-10 programs. www.erikgriswold.org

Fritz Hauser was born 1953 in Basel/Switzerland. He develops solo programs for drums and percussion, which he performs worldwide. Cross-media works include collaborations with visual artists, dancers, and actors in a variety of important and eclectic musical organizations, as well as with numerous musicians: Urs Leimgruber, Jüli Leandre, Marilyn Crispell, Christy Doran, Pauline Oliveros, Lauren Newton, Patrick Demenga, Fred Frith. Since the Stockholm International Percussion Event (1998), he has been collaborating with different percussion groups and soloists around the world: Kroumata, Synergy Percussion, Nexus, Speak Percussion, Keiko Abe, Steven Schick, Bob Becker, Michael Askill, ensemble XII, Srosh Percussion. He has released numerous CDs as soloist and with various groups. www.fritzhauser.ch

Eckhard Kopetzki was born 1956 in Hannover, Germany. He studied music education and physics at the University of Osnabrück and the Music College in Würzburg. Since 1985, he teaches percussion instruments and music theory (harmony) at the Berufsfachschule für Musik in Sulzbach - Rosenberg. He is well known for his compositions written specifically for young percussionists, as well as for professional artists and chamber music. In 2002, he won 1st prize in the Percussive Arts Society composition contest for his multiple-percussion solo “Canned Heat”. Again in 2003, he won the 1st prize with his marimba solo “Three Movements for a Solo Dancer”. Following this success, many pieces have been commissioned by numerous ensembles and orchestras, and he has become busy as a juror in international competitions.

In 2005, Terry cofounded Ensemble XII, an international percussion orchestra of which Pierre Boulez says, “...represents the next generation in the evolution of modern percussion.” Since 2004, he is a member of PARTCH, an ensemble devoted to the music of American microtonal composer Harry Partch. He currently performs with and directs the Los Angeles Percussion Quartet, exclusive recording artists for classical label Sono Luminus. In addition, his discography includes releases on Albany, Innova, New World, Capstone, and <541> Records (Stanford University). He is a five-time alumnus of the Lucerne Festival Academy (Switzerland), where he worked alongside Sofia Gubaidulina, Liza Lim, Dai Fujikura, Harrison Birtwistle, and members of Ensemble Intercontemporain.

Terry holds degrees in music performance from the University of Southern California (DMA), the California Institute of the Arts (MFA), and Eastern Illinois University (BM). He is an assistant professor of music and Director of Percussion Studies in the Conservatory of Music at Chapman University’s College of Performing Arts, where he additionally lectures in non-Western musical traditions and improvisation. He is an Artist Endorser for Sabian Cymbals.
Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends:

On behalf of our faculty, staff and students, thank you for joining us for this exciting presentation. I am grateful to all the members of our College of Performing Arts family for the support that allows us to continue to present great performances like the one you are about to see.

Preparing the next generation of performers and artists takes the support of all of us who are passionate about the performing arts and who value its presence in our lives. As a supporter of the arts, you have a crucial role to play to ensure the success of the College of Performing Arts and the students who are at the heart of all we do. Your financial support allows the College of Performing Arts to provide the kind of educational and performing opportunities crucial to our students’ growth into artists. Please join our community of loyal alumni, parents and community partners devoted to developing the talents of the next generation of artists with a gift to the Fund for Excellence.

The Fund for Excellence supports College of Performing Arts initiatives that enhance our students’ experience. Your gift to the Fund for Excellence has a tremendous impact on all of our programs by:

- Providing our students with opportunities to work with professional artists;
- Ensuring top notch community performances of classic and contemporary art;
- Strengthening our programs by maintaining our ability to attract the brightest and most talented students across the country.

No matter what level you choose to support the College of Performing Arts, you will be a part of a family of individuals who demonstrate year after year, that they are fully committed to developing the talents of young artists. And most importantly, I hope you make your gift because you value the arts and want to invest in our next generation of artists.

Enjoy the performance, and I look forward to seeing you again throughout the season.

Sincerely,
