Dear Henri:

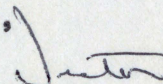

Your extraordinary thoughtfulness in suggesting a transcription of Max Helfman's last TV program is deeply appreciated by me and by Florence and by many of his friends, and I intend to follow through with your excellent suggestion in the very near future, and shall accept your kind offer to act as a consultant in the final editing of this material.

Incidentally, my wife Ruth and Florence Helfman are reviewing some of the magnificent tapes made by Max and his choral groups, not only here in Los Angeles, but also in other parts of the country, with the thought of producing several recordings under the auspices of the University of Judaism, which would consist of representative samples of his outstanding compositions and remarkable choral conducting genius for distribution on a fairly wide basis by the University.

The entire community is very proud of the extraordinary luster which has been added to the artistic life of Los Angeles through the performances of your Chamber Symphony Society. May you go from strength to strength.

Kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Victor Goodhill, M.D.
