Parnu, 29 - VIII - 67

Dear friend Henri,

Your letter did not reach me in Moscow. It was forwarded to me here, to Estonia, where I spend, as always, my summer vacation. This is why I received it belatedly.

I'm very glad that your family is well -- that you, as always, are full of energy in your broad and many-faceted activities.

I also am working hard and do it with great appetite. But unfortunately, at times, I'm drawn from my work by lack of good health. Nevertheless, I hope that Tamara and I will have the pleasure of meeting you and Emmy in December in Los Angeles.

Now, about your request in behalf of the young violinist, Peter Guth. I must confess that after your description of his brilliant qualities, I will gladly accept him into my class, if he will be able to get an official permit from our Ministry of Culture for his stay in Moscow for the purpose of study. I will write to him to him today. But I will also have to forewarn him of the condition that my frequent absences to fulfill concert engagements will necessitate his studying with one of my assistants during those times. Let him think it over, whether it will be worth his while to travel this great distance in view of the above stated condition.

I'm becoming more and more fascinated by conducting. And this past year has brought me great fulfillment in this area.

At present, I'm studying the new Second Concerto by Shosta- kovich, completed by him in June and dedicated to me. The first performance will take place in Moscow by the end of October -- an interesting composition.

I'm sending you, Emmy, and the children our heartfelt greetings. Wishing you health and well-being, most sincerely yours,

David
