Dear Henri,

I've tried reaching you on the phone several times, and since there has never been an answer, I have concluded that you and Emmy are out of the city. I do hope you have had a very pleasant summer.

Your line-up for this season looks most impressive, and I hope I shall be fortunate enough to be in town for at least a few of your concerts.

When we last spoke, you seemed enthusiastic about the idea of my playing the Shostakovich Concerto and the Schumann Quintet with you next season. I do hope you are planning this for one of your concerts, as I am eager to perform them with you, and will be very disappointed if our music-making (which has always afforded me genuine pleasure) is not in the offing.

When you return to L. A., please give me a call so that we can plan a bridge game. I'll be in and out all Fall.

Warmest greetings to Emmy and yourself,

As always,
