Dear Henri:

I have been delayed in answering your most recent correspondence due to illness (shingles), and having taken over two weeks for the convention in Washington D.C. of the American Bandmasters Convnetion and a stay in Florida.

The $100 per article, tho higher than we pay anybody else, stands.

However, we can not accept for publication in the string column of your recent article titled MUSICAL IMPRESSIONS FROM ISRAEL because:

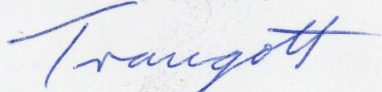

1. It pertains primarily to your personal experiences in Israel, thus it should go into an autobiography or the like.
2. It has little to do with string techniques, the teaching of strings or its literature. Tho your material is interesting, it is not helpful to most school orchestra directors.

Since you are an excellent writer, I suggest you try to get this article printed elsewhere. If your books is not already set in type, perhaps it can be included therein.

I am most reluctant in returning this article to you, but I do hope you understand our (Instrumentalist) viewpoint.

I trust that everything concerning yourself and your work are EXCELLENT.

Sincerely yours,

Traugott Rohner
